

ISA completes the Porce Sogamoso 500kV transmission line

ISA, throughout its affiliate ISA INTERCOLOMBIA, started operations of the last section of the Northwest Interconnection project, corresponding to the transmission line between Porce III (Antioquia) substation and Sogamoso (Santander) substation. This 500kV double-circuit line has an extension of 235 kilometers, including 505 towers and goes through 7 municipalities of Antioquia and 5 municipalities of Santander. The total project also included the expansion of both substations.
